

A CONTEST IN LUNEBURG

Two Precincts May be Thrown Out That Will Change Several Offices in the County.

TOBACCO GROWERS MEET

Large Planters in Favor of Starting Their Own Factories on a Large Scale.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MEHERRIN, VA., Nov. 11.—The political situation in Lunenburg remains almost as unsettled to-day as it was the day previous to election.

Judge George C. Orgran will contest two of the largest voting precincts in the county, with good chances of throwing them entirely out. These precincts are Lochleven and Rehoboth, and it is estimated that the irregularities were caused by the judges in the former failing to seal or wrap either the ballots or poll books, which were carried to the courthouse and delivered to another individual of the clerk. This precinct gave Mr. W. E. Neblett a majority, and the throwing out of this alone would change matters considerably.

CHANGE OF OFFICERS.
W. E. Neblett, who defeated Judge George C. Orgran by twenty votes, would lose the office of attorney for the Commonwealth, and Mr. George T. Bridgman would lose the office of representative, and Mr. George T. Allen would be re-elected, and Mr. O. L. Hardy, commissioner in District No. 1, who won over Mr. W. Y. Powles by one vote, would also surrender the office to his opponent. Both of these precincts gave Mr. Neblett a majority, as also Mr. Hardy. It is quite evident that the fight will be a warm one, and a good display of legal talent will be employed on both sides.

A PETITION.
A petition has been gotten up and signed for this purpose, and the people generally are anxiously awaiting developments. The friends of Judge Orgran are confident that they will win out and make Mr. C. Commonwealth attorney for Lunenburg.

Mr. J. F. Cowles is very much disgusted with the results, and claims that he will have several counts of the ballots in order to ascertain whether or not there is any election have been issued to the above parties, and the Electoral Board has so far refused to take the matter up.

TOBACCO GROWERS MEET

The tobacco growers of Lunenburg county met at the courthouse yesterday, and elected the following representatives to attend the meeting of the organization, which will be held in Danville, Va., on the 17th day of the present month, for the purpose of devising some means to raise the price of tobacco: W. H. Hawthorne, S. H. Love, R. A. Blackwell, J. S. Saunders, W. C. Love, J. G. Blackwell, J. T. Waddell, T. B. Hardy, J. C. Hart and E. P. Wallace.

It is the purpose of these people to fight the tobacco trust, and there are several of them who favor the manufacture of their own crop by organizing a large stock company among the farmers of Virginia and North Carolina and build large factories for this purpose.

All of these men are large growers, and they claim that it is impossible for them to raise tobacco at the present prices.

Another plan, which meets with much favor among them, is to have bonded warehouses to whom they can ship their crop to be held until the price advances, and let the warehouse advance them such amount of money as they are compelled to use on the tobacco shipped them.

Large crops of this produce is raised in this county, particularly in the tobacco belt, and that every farmer is entirely aroused and will make strenuous efforts to accomplish much along this line.

THE BELL CASE

The Coroner's Jury Offended at the Official Statement.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., Nov. 11.—The action of the Eastern Hospital Board as published in yesterday's Times-Dispatch has been the subject of considerable discussion, especially among the members of the coroner's jury, who will doubtless be heard from.

A number of the jury said to your correspondent to-day that in declaring that R. E. Bell was not a patient of marked suicidal tendency and that proper care had been exercised in his case had cast a reflection on the intelligence and honesty of the jury.

STAFFORD DEMOCRATS DISCUSS A NEW COUNT
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 11.—A number of Stafford Democrats were in conference here to-day as to having a recount of the vote in the recent election when H. G. Chesley, present treasurer, who is a Republican, defeated W. B. Reamy, Democratic nominee, by four majority.

Definite action was deferred.

BRUTAL TREATMENT OF A DOG PUNISHED

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WARRENTON, VA., Nov. 11.—A beautiful hunting dog belonging to a gentleman well known here was brutally cut this morning by a negro armed with an axe. Without provocation, he raised his weapon and inflicted a terrible wound across the animal's back.

When tried the defendant, Epna Brown, protested his innocence, but received a fine of $20 and a sentence of two weeks in jail.

YOUNG GIRL FATALLY BURNED AT IVANHOE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WYTHEVILLE, VA., November 11.—A young girl, Bessie Warner by name, was fatally burned at her home at Ivanhoe, a mining town in Wythe county. Her clothing became ignited while she was standing by an open fireplace, and was practically burned from her person before a neighbor could extinguish the flames.

She is not expected to survive the night.

PRETTY WEDDINGS

Tabb-Street Presbyterian Church, in Petersburg, Scene of a Brilliant Marriage.

A PRETTY NAVAL WEDDING

Dr. F. C. Cocke, Surgeon U. S. N., Makes Miss Bain His Bride—Notable Marriage.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 11.—Tabb Street Presbyterian Church was the scene to-night of one of the most beautiful and brilliant weddings of the season, the occasion being the marriage at 8:30 o'clock of Miss Annie Hall Watson and Mr. Harry M. Woody. The church was brilliantly illuminated and artistically decorated, presenting a view of loveliness. Petersburg's society was present in overflowing numbers and in full dress.

The bride, who is one of society's favorites, entered in a trained gown of white French or gauze, elaborately shirred and ornamented with medallions of real lace, her tulle veil caught with a diamond pin and a spray of orange blossoms, and carrying Bridal roses. Her maid of honor was Miss Helen Johnston, of Petersburg, who was attired in a gown of white organdy, and carried chrysanthemums. Miss Donald Claiborne, cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl.

The bridesmaids, all wearing gowns of white French organdy, cut loose sleeves, with berthe of lace, and carried bouquets of white satin and carrying white chrysanthemums, were the following young ladies: Misses Helen Venable, Josephine A. C. McIlwaine, Mary Lee, Emily Virginia Townes, Page Nichols, Julia, Budd, Mary McGill, Nellie Hamilton, Virginia Slater, Sallie Friend, all of Petersburg, and Miss Nellie Purcell and Emily Peters, of Baltimore.

The groom's best man was Mr. Maylan Field, of Petersburg, and the following young gentlemen acted as ushers: Messrs. Samuel W. Price, T. Stanley Beckwith, Benjamin Harrison, Alexander Bryant, Edward T. Mann, George Plummer, Carl, William L. Zimmer, Jr., Hugh L. Percival, Thomas Holden, J. Leslie Watson, John Watson, George Watson, Robert L. Watson, Jr., all of Petersburg, and Messrs. Herbert Lightfoot, of Newport News, and Stewart Watson, brother of the bride, of Baltimore.

The church decorations were chrysanthemums and palms, with a background of cedars.

After the marriage a reception was held at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. R. L. Watson, on Union Street, which was attended by a large number of the relatives and friends of the young couple.

The bride is a great favorite in society circles, is a lady of charming personality and grace of heart and mind. The groom is a prominent and very popular young merchant.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody will spend their honeymoon in the North.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING

Miss Kate Edith Eichelberger the Bride of Mr. Frank W. Bell.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, VA., November 11.—A marriage which has been looked forward to with much interest among the Staunton fashionable took place at Trinity Episcopal Church at 10 o'clock this morning. Miss Kate Edith Eichelberger, daughter of Mrs. Susan C. Eichelberger, was joined in matrimony to Mr. Frank W. Bell.

The wedding march was played by Professor W. Webb, and the vested choir sang the wedding march from "Lohengrin." Arriving at the altar, Mr. Bell and his best man and brother, Mr. Davis Bell, of Lynchburg, met the bride, who was escorted by Mr. Hugh G. Eichelberger, her brother, who gave her away. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter C. Hullihen, rector of Trinity.

The pretty gown of white cloth and her white lace picture hat, was a beautiful creation. She carried a white Prayer-Book. The matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas Claggett Bowling, also wore a beautiful white gown, and carried a large bouquet of white violets. Messrs. William Kable, Jr., Rudolph Bumgardner, Alexander W. Blackley and Joseph S. Denny were the ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell received many evidences of esteem in the numerous and costly presents received.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell started on the 11 o'clock train for Eastern and North, and on a wedding trip. Just after the 2:30 instant they will be at home at the Kalamoro Hotel, in this city. Mr. Bell is an active and prosperous druggist of this city. The bride is a very handsome and charming young lady, who has endeared herself to many friends.

COUNTRY WEDDING

Dr. Jesse Hughes Mabry and Miss Marie Elizabeth Boatwright.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., November 11.—The Mount Zion Baptist Church at this place was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony at 2 o'clock to-day, when Miss Marie Elizabeth Boatwright became the bride of Dr. Jesse Hughes Mabry, of Newport News, Va. Just before the bride party entered the church Miss Mary McKenna sang very softly and sweetly "In the Fragrant Summer Time." The church was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns and potted plants and flowers. A large number of friends gathered to witness the ceremony. To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the bride entered by the left aisle leaning upon the arm of her father, Mr. Walter Leake Boatwright. Precocious Bridal roses were carried by the bride, and carried a large bouquet of flowers. The bride was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Giddings E. Mabry, of Tampa, Fla.
